How to find Books in SOLO
Search using the book title. It’s sometimes useful to add the author’s surname too.

Limit your search to your favourite library or to online only.

E-book: click “Online access” to connect to the e-book.

Printed book: click “Find & Request” to see which libraries hold the book and to find the shelfmark.
How to find Journal articles in SOLO
“Articles” - quick and easy access to journal articles
Articles - viewing your results

Online article – available from any device

Restricted article – Bodleian Libraries’ computers only!
Reading the article

Clicking “Online access” opens the “Find it @ Oxford” window listing one or databases that include the article.

Click on the database title to connect to the article.

Title: Why did the proton cross the road? Humour and science communication

What about the restricted items?

Electronic Legal Deposit items are restricted by law:
- Bodleian Libraries computers only
- 1 person at a time
- No copying and pasting

Restricted items are materials that the Bodleian receives via ‘Legal Deposit’ - Oxford’s legal entitlement to receive a copy of every item published in the UK.

You can usually find an unrestricted copy on SOLO. Look out for the green Online access logo. These can be used on your own computer/device (and when you are off campus if you log on to SOLO with your SSO). You may also copy & paste although you must respect normal copyright limits.
